

Unethical PolyTrics:

Regarding the Canadian Truckers Freedom Convoy Protest

There is a fine line between Lawful and Unlawful - most people, including Politicians cross it without thinking. Unethical in their behaviour, Politicians seduced by a modicum of power, become corrupted as representatives of the People. Sorry, but that's not why they were elected.

- What is the Law, when it mandates that people poison themselves?
- What is the Law, when it deprives people of Freedom, without justification or jurisdiction?
- What is the Law, when only Greed and Corruption benefit from its edicts?
- What is the Law, when Politicians no longer serve the People that elected them?

Need someone clarify for the Government - A "mandate" is a command/order from the Electorate to the Government, never from the Government to the people they were elected to represent. In other words - the People command the Government - the Government does not command the People! In this, the Government has over reached; they have assumed authority they have no power to wield. Democracy is built on the ideology of Common Law, where the Common People possess the Power; the Government merely represents them - period!

It is about time that our elected officials grasp the truth. Their arrogance steps on too many toes and violates both the Canadian Charter Rights & Freedoms and the Common Law upon which humankind have built Civilizations. This is no Dictatorship! Politicians are elected to "serve," not to Rule.

Freedom is not something granted by Government, neither can it be Legislated away - except for Criminal Offence; a Verdict handed down by a judge, not a Politician. When did Politics become Justice or an Arm of the Law? Judges have stricken laws from existence, repealed, vetoed and dismissed from utterance.

For the Truckers; theirs is a Protest for Freedom to continue doing what they do - transport Goods back and forth without the hindrance of illegal mandates imposed by one Country over another, or by the whim of a single individual (elected to serve the people, not rule them). Where sovereign nations acquiesce - bow to the pressures of another; destroy themselves paying homage to Greed, Corruption and an ongoing lie that is becoming the fulcrum of deceit, rhetoric and coverup. Where is ethical oversight?

There is validation in what the Canadian Truckers are doing - they are legally protesting the illegal enforcement of injecting an "Unknown" into their bodies. They, like thousands of Canadians across the Country are protesting an illegal mandate, imposed without purpose or process, and without reason; devoid of the factual and Scientific evidence of said validity. "They say..." is not evidence, it is not fact; it is not truth and it clearly is not Law.

"It is a Criminal Act to force or demand any person to inject any hazardous substance or poison into their bodies."

With immunity from prosecution, Politicians and Vaccine Manufacturers are reticent with the details on what is actually in Vaccines; their Side-effects and long-term issues that may arise from their usage. Would anyone comply, if a Government mandated that a Bullet to the Head was a valid cure for a Virus?

Death may end suffering, but it is not a Cure worthy of Political Mandate!

Consider the reality of any Mandate, where the "Unknown" is "Need to know." Well, the Public needs to know what is in it, before they continue using it! The failure to build Trust under these conditions is absolute. None will adhere to mandates, demands, ultimatums even Law, when they are devoid of TRUST!
